WESTERN AUSTRALIAN
INSTITUTION OF SURVEYORS

WAIS INDUSTRY PARTNER PROGRAM

The Western Australian Institution of Surveyors (WAIS) advocates for the Land, Engineering and Mine Surveyors of Western Australia. Representing over 200 members our primary objective is to 'strive for excellence in the application of the science of surveying for the benefit of society'. WAIS promotes the profession of surveying in all its disciplines including:

- Advocating to government and industry on issues relating to land, its planning and development and other survey and land tenure issues that are central to Western Australian society and industry.
- Promoting the honourable and professional practice of surveyors as worthy contributors to the community.
- Encouraging the study of surveying to improve the professional and technical knowledge of surveyors and of those intending to become surveyors.

We are affiliated with all major survey organisations in Australian and New Zealand and are working to establish a South East Asian Survey Partnership to also include Papua New Guinea, Malaysia, Indonesia and Singapore.

The vast majority of WAIS members are from private practice with hands on business experience. The WAIS Board members are all experienced surveyors of differing specialisations and a valuable resource for members.
